These programs are designed to improve each player's basic fundamentals. The students will be broken down into small groups according to age and ability. We have designed this session to focus on all the fundamentals of ice hockey. By improving player's fundamental skills this improves confidence. Each practice will begin with at least a thirty minutes of power skating. This will be followed by puck handling, shooting, passing and puck support.

THE CT ELITE PHILOSOPHY

The primary mission of CT Elite will be to provide quality instruction to our players in the technical and tactical aspects of ice hockey. The program also includes off ice strength and flexibility training. These off-ice workouts will improve all hockey skills. We want our player's strengths to develop so that they can win the small one-on-one battles that are critical, so we intend to tailor the workouts to each player's maximum ability.

We have been in the hockey/training business for over 15 years. Our main objective is to teach and improve proper hockey playing and skating technique. Each player will learn to master all basic fundamentals in a controlled manner. We also want to push each player outside their comfort zone. Our philosophy is for the players to gain confidence and stronger hockey skills so that they can compete better in game situations. We believe that repetition and speed will enhance skills and proper technique.

CAMP DIRECTORS

Bill Maniscalco

Currently coaching at Avon Old Farms School where Bill has won two New England Prep School Championships. Prior to this position at Avon, Bill spent a year with Quinnipiac University and ten years as the head coach at Choate Rosemary Hall School in Wallingford, CT, whom he guided to four appearances in the New England Prep School playoffs. Before that he spent his time at Southern CT State University where he led the Owls to three regular season titles, four league championships and two ACHA national tournament appearances. In 1999 he was the recipient of the Vincent J. Reilly Coach of the Year Award. He has also been active in the Hockey Night in Boston summer tournament series as well as in various USA Hockey select camps.

CJ Marottolo

This North Haven, CT native and former Choate Rosemary Hall hockey star was recently named the Head Coach of Sacred Heart University in Fairfield, CT. Sacred Heart is a Division one program that plays in the Atlantic Hockey Conference. Prior to his new assignment he worked at Yale University for 14 years with the last seven being the Associate head Coach. While at Yale the Yale teams won two regular season championships, 5 Ivy league titles ,one tournament championship and qualified for the NCAA tournament twice.

Marottolo was also an assistant at Trinity college for two winters before Yale. He played collegiate hockey at Northeastern University and graduated in 1989. The following two years he served as player/head coach at the Hockey Club de Metz, France. Marottolo also works for USA Hockey as he participates in national and regional developmental camps throughout the summer.
